NO, this is NOT anything doom related. It is what it is, a thing in this image. What it is, you can guess. The first image sent to WFR looked very much like a massive planet and got interest levels up so had to investigate. After a closer look it seems the image was modified in some way although can't be sure how. Still, this is pretty interesting by itself so you decide. Images in this video were taken directly from the NASA site. After reviewing images from a wider date range, nothing quite like it was found. Glare, shadow, ghostly wanderer? No idea, but here's the closer look.

Thanks for the tip!

i think it's hercolubus, mr. x, nibooboo. my trusty gut agrees.
just after sunset last nite, the overcast sky in wsw suddenly became an intense ruby/magenta, like a furnace!... & in minutes, the color vanished. it was pretty freakin' weird. otherwise, wsw horizon, & at times, 360°, is pink... just about any time of day.
oh, & there's the intensifying uhf pitch, like a hearing test, 24/7. i KNOW it's not tinnitus, & that others hear it, too.

Yeah check out StephenHannardADGUK's latest vid. That's not THE image I saw but one like it with more contrast and more of a shadow. Too bad the actual image wasn't as 'clear'. Whatever, still cool I thought :)
