(2 people are spying on you) Yeah, it sucks. And it's pretty weird when you don't know that you're being spied on online. People and companies spy on you by planting cookies on your browser. But they're not friggin chocolate chip cookies or something delicious like that. These cookies are crummy and allow the sites to follow you around the web. To see who's spying on you, check out Safe Monitor. It's pretty cool. it's free and the results will shock you. See Who!

I'm sorry, but from what has been available, & unless this is a symbolic gesture, 3 objects don't amount to much. Thanks for sharing anyways.

I tried google image search, I got this message...

"The URL doesn't refer to an image, or the image is not publicly accessible."
