

Remote Viewing Mars

Ed Dames

I perceive them [the transdimensional entities] as nothing but good.... [They have an] outreach program They are actually interventions, not just observations.... And they know every single nuclear warhead – hidden, surreptitious, whatever – on this planet. They know where every single one is, and they can neutralize it in a heartbeat. There will never be on this planet – because it is not allowed by something out there – a nuclear slugfest.... “Good” is not an objective term [for them].... I support them.... I would support anything they’re doing. They’ve been around for a long time. Hyper-intelligent. One of my philosophies is “go with the winning team.” ... They [the transdimensionals] work in consort with these very human types [of aliens], too. For instance, they took the finger off the nuclear trigger. There would have been a nuclear war twice since 1955 alone.... These guys stopped it. These entities stopped it.... They are perfect shapeshifters. They can play you like a marionette, electronically or otherwise. All the abduction phenomena we're aware of, and has been reported These guys are all responsible for that. They have an agenda.... There are no greys These entities I am talking about are barely visible to the camera. They can present themselves however they want to; and in this particular era, they present themselves as greys and reptilians.... They don't kill. They are not like us.

[The Project] Clementine [spacecraft] was supposed to be NASA, and, all of a sudden, the [U.S.] Air Force took it over. I wonder why.... The key reason [for silence on the spaceship issue] is if a major government, who bills itself as a leader in science, cannot explain something, then it's not going to talk about it. Because its scientists are supposed to be able to explain any anomaly that big.... They better have an explanation for it. So it's going to take them time to study it before an announcement would be made, but I think that the Japanese will beat us to it.

[Regarding] MJ-12 [Majestic Twelve] ... the documents [that Gordon Duff was talking about] ... anybody, anybody, in the UFO community, so called, knows about the MJ-12 documents. They're fake.... All the hypotheses that Project Blue Book [U.S. government investigation of spaceships] put forward about the existence of UFOs and what they are, the problem was never solved. So the MJ-12 documents were put out on the streets, to leak out on the streets, as a trap door ... to watch to see who was interested in those documents that the U.S. government put out – and try to ferret out, from civilian scientists and other technicians, the people that might really know the truth about UFOs. That's the story of the MJ-12 documents.
