Not sure of the date but there's much more to the video I haven't shown here with TONS of other objects and weirdness (maybe later). "It's a washer." "It's a handle." "It's a large wrench" are just a few of the explanations supposedly given by NASA.

From the submitter - "I can't believe NASA let's these videos out."

You decide! Cool enough for me and unless anyone recovered the 'wrench' will we ever know for sure?

At first sight it looks like the two appendages might be legs of an astronaut. Wondering if someone got "exited" into space. Those Russians can be pretty mean - especially if they're drinking Vodka ;-) But seriously it does kind of look like legs to me and they are in white bulky suits....idk.

Thanks for this video, WFR! It is interesting that NASA seems less reticent about releasing recordings of this type; less that is, than they used to be. Perhaps it's just me, but I have come to regard disclosure of the existence of ETs by NASA or the BSpres as an enormous yawn! I'd be more excited if they disclosed that there is no Santa Claus! Either of the aforementioned disclosures will be met with a resounding, "Duhhhhhh"! But NASA must catch up to the public, after all, they are our Leader!
