Who? What? Why?!

Some say man made maybe HAARP or Scalar energy, some say ET, and some say the Earth (Gaia) herself produces these wonderful geometrically perfect crop circles...

This years season is only days away - what will it bring?

No one claims to make these crop circles - and those that do never show how they can...

Electromagnetic fields, right angled stems that seem to have been heated from the inside out (much like a microwave), and peculiar growing patterns of the crops effected - some stay year round even after the harvest imprinted like a tattoo...

One theory is the Earth produces these vibrations that appear in specific areas that lay along 'energetic grid lines' that the Earth naturally has...

Another is these are messages from our cosmic brothers and sisters, just to say "Hi! We're here!" - or to actually help balance the Earth with positive energies that replenish a lot of what we take of her...

One thing is for sure - no one has ever been caught in the process of making one - no one has come forward and claimed making the 'real' crop circles, and no one can explain exactly why they are made in the first place...

So sit back, relax and enjoy these two videos - the first is in chronological order of the real crop circles that appeared, and the other is crop circle spins (one to bend zee mind a little - and even help expand your conscience)..

Pioneered by webbot's Cliff High, Igor and George Ure - a fantastic perspective of spinning crop circles to see intriguing patterns unfold. It is a psychedelic assault on your visual senses. Does spinning these crop circles at certain speeds or revolutions reveal anything? I see merkabahs appear from the least unlikely formations. The motion of some make them seemingly come to life - and change over and over.

Very presumptuous of you to claim this as fact.

I refer you to the above as well as these links:

A 29-year-old Wiltshire man last night became what is believed to be the first person in Britain to be accused of the novel crime of raiding a field and creating patterns out of flattened wheat.

Matthew Williams, of Bishops Cannings, near Devizes, was arrested after photographs allegedly showing him working with another man were sent anonymously to detectives.

He will appear before Devizes magistrates on Monday charged with causing criminal damage to an unspecified area of pasture near Marlborough in July this year.

The case threatens to blow the lid on what has long been believed to be the prime cause of crop circles well-equipped and highly adept hoaxers.

My group, Circlemakers, now describe what we do as art practice but at first it was just curiosity.

When in 1991 Doug Bower and Dave Chorley admitted that they had been making circles for the past 13 years, interest plummeted.

AdChoices

We wanted to crank it up again by making formations so huge and so complex that people would once again start asking the question: 'Is it possible that these things are manmade?'

Yes, yes...there is no way humans could make such things. They are too stupid and not creative enough, lol.

Crop circles are a blight on Ufology. I have not spoken to a single thinking person who thinks these are anything other than fun, man-made forms of art or advertising.

Crop circles should be lumped into the same absurd things as Billy Meier or cattle mutilations.

But I will go on record as saying I enjoy the designs and the effort involved in making these. Kinda like the Asian face changing dance....easily explainable, but the community that produces it remains tight lipped. I guess they are aliens or something, lol.

Fake or real, theres no denying that crop circles always look amazing. I personally beleive that the majority of them are hoaxes, but then theres those that defy convention.

The ones that display all the classic signs of a genuine crop circle. A lot of them look like symbols of the chakras. A lot of them look like ancient symbols. I beleive of the ones that are real. Theres a profound message there somewhere.

Cool videos anyway. Thanks for posting them mate. 👍

Lots of people have been charged for damaging crops. Some were even charged after publicly admitting it.

Nice try at creating a bunch of lies, but you know there are people out there that create crop circles, admit to it, and show how it is done.

i never said humans are not responsible for some crop circles in the past - there are some prime examples of man made crop circles - the firefox logo crop circle is a brilliant example of this.

However,

You can't deny their existence - they are there, so that is proof they exist! 😊
Now the proof of the ones made last year in the video I made, and you say they are man made - can you prove this fact? You can either prove it, or you can speculate (as you are) without proof.

As such a seasoned skeptic we all know you are, why then are you taking these dodgy opportunists word for it eh?

Kind of a double standard you're setting there 😊

The simple fact that we know humans have made them (and made many complex ones), not to mention they typically appear in the same area, and a UFO has never been seen making one, well.. walks like a duck, etc.

Thanks Sol 😊

Yes it is very interesting the professional debunkers of crop circles can offer next to NO PROOF of the "real" Crop Circles actually being made - they say they can - but I am here to say no they have not. Quite the contrary - they have actually produced people that claim to make them - yet, once again show no evidence of them actually making a full detailed "real" Crop Circle.

They also believe "anyone" that claims to have made them as their proof?! Absurd assumptions - it shows debunkers have little to offer - because they say "they KNOW" who made them - but they don't. They know as much as anyone else - not much at all.

I never said I know who made them, not once - I stated they are there/here - and they cannot be explained by anyone. period. The height of arrogance is being displayed by your favorite neighborhood debunkers - who once again bring NOTHING new apart from their small boxed in minds that think they know something we don't.

Who: Humans..

What: Art..

Why: So they can make a stupid video of them and post them on forums. For entertainment, and for religious like beliefs, and mainly for profit, and website hits, DVD sales, tour sales, conference ticket sales, book sales....

Every single crop circle in your videos has tool marks left behind by human tools. Every single one of them can be proven to be man made.

I forgot to add... don't you think it is even the slightest bit suspicious that almost all the crop circles in that video are from Wiltshire?

This is because the main crop circle business, and crop circle makers live near Wiltshire...

You have to be very blind to not notice such a simple clue.

I remember when this one was made.. it took 3 stages across multiple days for HUMANS to make it.

People actually believe "aliens" made it. I find it hilarious. Yeah sure, "aliens" came back multiple days in a row to finish working on the same crop circle, and nobody bothered to set up a camera to catch them making it... oh I wonder why?!?

NOT... I don't wonder why they didn't set up cameras.. because THEY ARE IN ON IT.

Yup, that crop circle was made next to the white horse which is ALWAYS hosting crop circles in the same exact place... always... yet no video of any aliens doing it.... 🤔

Just want to say that if aliens did make this I am quite sure it would not take them the same amount of time as humans. That is pretty much your point correct? That aliens wouldn't have come down in a couple consecutive days, because that's how humans had to do it? If aliens made this it probably took them 5 minutes. And this field you are talking about that always has crop circles? You do realize that is a Ufology research center that tries to contact them right? Would kind of make sense if it were true that they would make them there...

Even though I don't generally believe in crop circles, some of them, including this one specifically, and a few of the 3D ones, definitely seem real to me.
