Name: Deer Woman

Tribal affiliation: Potawatomi, Creek, Omaha, Ponca

Also known as: Deer Lady, Deer-Woman, Deerwoman

Type: Deer spirit, monster, shape-shifter

Deer Woman is a deer spirit of the eastern Woodlands and Central Plains tribes, associated with fertility and love. Like many Native American animal spirits, Deer Woman is sometimes depicted in animal form, other times in human form, and sometimes as a mixture between the two. Although Deer Woman was usually considered a benign spirit who might help women conceive children, some stories portray her as a more dangerous being who might seduce men, especially adulterous or promiscuous men, and either lead them to their deaths or leave them to pine away from lovesickness.
