

IMPORTANT TOPICS (3 DAYS)

The 9mm Won't Save You

By: Captain\_Chris, 2 hours ago

Discover what self defense masters & the army don't want you to know... more

Skulls-Horns-Hides-Bones www.atlanticcoralenterprise.com
Wholesale $100 Minimum-Kudu-Sheep- Gemsbok-Reindeer-Impala-Springbok

KC Singles Dating 40 & Up www.SinglesOfKansasCity.org
Upscale Dating Kansas City Area All Members Serious & Screened.

Meet Senior People Online www.SeniorPeopleMeet.com
Fast & Easy way To Connect With Active Seniors. Join For Free Now!

Skull
Human Skeleton
Human

CRYPTOZOLOGY & MYTHICAL BEASTS

0 privacy

Humanoid Skull with Horns found in 1880's, page 1

Pages: << 1 2 >>

ATS Members have flagged this thread 16 times

Topic started on 24-6-2009 @ 05:30 PM by lucentenigma

Source

Philadelphia Human skulls with horns were discovered in a burial mound at Sayre, Bradford County, Pennsylvania, in the 1880's. Horny projections extended two inches above the eye-brows, and the skeletons were seven feet tall, but other than that were anatomically normal. It was estimated that the bodies had been buried around A.D. 1200. The find was made by a reputable group of antiquarians, including the Pennsylvania state historian and dignitary of the Presbyterian Church (Dr. G.P. Donehoo) and two professors, A.B. Skinner, of the American Investigating Museum, and W.K. Morehead, of Phillips Academy, Andover, Massachusetts. The bones were sent to the American Investigating Museum in Philadelphia, where they were later claimed to have been stolen and have never been seen again Pursuit, 6:69-70, July 1973 Mysteries of the Unexplained, p. 39 1992

Current Member Picks

- Lizard that resembles Spiderman
Posted 16 days ago with 13 member flags
- Seven of the Biggest Beasts of All Time
Posted 19 days ago with 9 member flags
- Ripley! Acid spitting, bone dissolving 'alien' worms
Posted 14 days ago with 7 member flags
- Project to examine 'Yeti' DNA launched
Posted 1 days ago with 5 member flags
- No evidence of aquatic humanoids has ever been found-US Government
Posted 14 days ago with 4 member flags
- The existence of Bigfoot
Posted 12 days ago with 4 member flags
- Lechuza caught in Carizzo Springs Texas? fake or real?
Posted 2 days ago with 4 member flags
- Are Mothman and the Conewago Phantom Parallel

SHOW RIBBON

I don't know how credible Burlington News is but I do have the actual readers digest book 'mysteries of the unexplained' that has this story.

Any thoughts on what this might be? Do they still exist? Were they destroyed by some religious fanatic?

COPYRIGHT & USAGE

reply posted on 24-6-2009 @ 05:33 PM by king9072

reply to post by lucentenigma

I am always skeptical when there's only one specimen. Cause genetic anomalies have created a myriad of odd looking humans with seemingly impossible features.

But the fact that the bodies were 7 feet tall, seems to add more fuel to the fire that there could well have been a race of giants on earth at some point. It would be nice if we had more bodies.

EDIT: Ok my bad, apparently they all had horns, why only one picture of one skull then?

[edit on 24-6-2009 by king9072]

COPYRIGHT & USAGE

reply posted on 24-6-2009 @ 05:46 PM by tatersalad

it would be nice if there was one week that the smithsonian and everyone that had evidence of past life on earth would show us the truth, but that is just a dream. like i said in a past post. most of our history has been burned or buried in one form or another so this and so much more is just speculation!

i will take a swing at it though" being 7 feet tall and the jaw line looking slimmer than a males. some sort of female anunaki?

again just speculation on my part, i have seen this scolo on several threads on utube, but thanks for the post!!

COPYRIGHT & USAGE

Beings?

Posted 19 days ago with 3 member flags

Muslima.com
International Muslim Matrimony

JOIN FREE NOW

REAL TIME: New Topics

Newest topics, updated in real-time:

Officer Responds to Dangerous Dog Call, Comes Home with New Best Friend

Breaking General News: 3 minutes ago

HSBC bank 'sorry' for aiding organised crime, drug cartels, rogue states, terrorists and money lau

Global Meltdown: 8 minutes ago

My Third Year Here

General Chit Chat: 9 minutes ago

7 Yrs Old Girl Falls Out Of 3rd Story Window, Saved By Bus Driver

Paranormal Studies: 22 minutes ago

Rofl.. if the great minds of the past were corrupted by Facebook

Jokes, Puns, & Pranks: 48 minutes ago

Giving Up the Belief of Responsibility Will Not Make People Turn Bad But Instead More Kind

Philosophy and Metaphysics: 55 minutes ago

Ron Paul urges Romney to release Tax Records

2012 US Elections: 1 hours ago

Utah rescuers find emaciated hiker after monthlong ordeal

Survival: 1 hours ago

The secret of how to learn a foreign language in just 10 days. Read here to find out...

In this economy you can still make a smart investment. Find the nation's highest yielding CD account Top cruise lines are giving away their unsold cabins at up to 75% off...

New discovery gives hope for joint discomfort...

reply posted on 24-6-2009 @ 05:56 PM by ladyinwaiting

This is interesting, but with the lower mandible gone, and the eye cavities so very large; the small and pointy fox-like face; regardless of the horns, it just doesn't look necessarily human to me.

The seven foot tall skeletons are interesting. I wonder if these heads were attached to the bodies, or just in the burial site with them.

Good find.

COPYRIGHT & USAGE

reply posted on 24-6-2009 @ 06:07 PM by TheComte

I'm pretty sure this has been proven a hoax.

COPYRIGHT & USAGE

reply posted on 24-6-2009 @ 06:11 PM by Titen-Sxull

reply to post by lucentenigma

I remember hearing about this some time ago, supposedly there was a legend amongst the Lenape natives that they had a war with these giants and chased them out to the mid-west. Supposedly a tribe from the mid-west had a story about a wandering tribe of giants who came from the East, which are thought to be the ones chased out of Pennsylvania. The tribe of giants was called the Allegewi I think...

This sort of story always gets me excited and reminds me of how little we truly know of our past history particularly here in North America thanks to the killing, persecution, and assimilation of so many Native Americans there are long lost chunks of history to which these horned giants and burial mounds belong...

COPYRIGHT & USAGE

reply posted on 24-6-2009 @ 06:24 PM by mblahnikluver

I remember reading fairly recently that this was a hoax. I will look for the site and then post it if I find it. It is interesting though, but I remember reading about it because I saw it on here and wanted to know about it. I will star and flag it because someone will probably have more information on it's authenticity. This one has always made me wonder. I did read it was a hoax but I am not sure how reliable the sources were...

[edit on 6/24/2009 by mblahnikluver]

NEW-PICKS: Newest Flags

Newest topics getting flags, in real-time:

This is the Dawning of the Age of Aquarius

The Gray Area: 17 hours ago, 143 flags

Black Mob of over 300 raid and steal in Walmart

Other Current Events: 16 hours ago, 26 flags

RCMP search for "non-human entities" in BC

Aliens and UFOs: 9 hours ago, 14 flags

Obama Gives Egypt's Muslim Brotherhood $1.5 Billion without Congress' Approval

US Political Madness: 12 hours ago, 13 flags

Adolf Hitler - The Greatest Story NEVER told!

Deconstructing Disinformation: 15 hours ago, 12 flags

Is this a UFO over Mars?

Aliens and UFOs: 7 hours ago, 11 flags

Experience 7 mins of terror as the latests Mars Rover lands on Mars.

Science & Technology: 12 hours ago, 9 flags

Zimmerman Accused of Molesting his Cousin.

People: 16 hours ago, 9 flags

NEW-HOT: Active New Topics

Newest topics getting replies, in real-time:

Black Mob of over 300 raid and steal in Walmart

Other Current Events: 16 hours ago, 202 replies

COPYRIGHT & USAGEreply posted on 24-6-2009 @ 08:45 PM by michaelhernsin

Its quite actually easy to achieve (now adays)
 i just seen a special on this a man had his forehead drilled a bit, and placed coral onto the skin.
 I forget why it works, but something about the coral calcium allows the body to turn it into solid bone.
 meaning.. coral in a wound if treated properly, would eventually turn into a BONE (like a normal one we have) because it thinks its a bone already, so it "heals it" i'll try to find the article

COPYRIGHT & USAGEreply posted on 24-6-2009 @ 08:49 PM by ravensadow13

It looks like a mask carved out of some sort of resin.
 But surely a hoax.

COPYRIGHT & USAGEreply posted on 24-6-2009 @ 09:02 PM by kosmicjack

Well, there is medical evidence for horns growing out of the head.

Warning, kind of ick:

img530.imageshack.us...

I don't know if the OP's skull is authentic, I'm just saying...

[edit on 24/6/2009 by kosmicjack]

COPYRIGHT & USAGEreply posted on 24-6-2009 @ 09:09 PM by ladyinwaiting

reply to post by kosmicjack

lol! The photo in the link is not "kind of ick".....

It's pretty major ick!!

(Nonetheless-- poor woman).

COPYRIGHT & USAGEreply posted on 24-6-2009 @ 09:14 PM by kosmicjack

reply to post by ladyinwaiting

edit to add: It kind of makes one want to hurl!

Zimmerman Accused of Molesting his Cousin.
 People: 16 hours ago, 143 replies

Adolf Hitler - The Greatest Story NEVER told!
 Deconstructing Disinformation: 15 hours ago, 92 replies

What may be the world's first cybernetic hate crime unfolds in French McDonald's
 Breaking Alternative News: 6 hours ago, 87 replies

This is the Dawning of the Age of Aquarius
 The Gray Area: 17 hours ago, 74 replies

Taliban bans polio vaccinations
 Other Current Events: 6 hours ago, 41 replies

Atheist terrorists are as bad as any other religious extremist
 Conspiracies in Religions: 9 hours ago, 40 replies

You don't need anything to quit... Except a little common sense
 Medical Issues & Conspiracies: 16 hours ago, 30 replies

or should I say... 😬

COPYRIGHT & USAGE

reply posted on 24-6-2009 @ 09:52 PM by dooper

A seven foot tall guy who's horny?

Sounds like the NBA to me.

COPYRIGHT & USAGE

reply posted on 25-6-2009 @ 12:57 AM by Pauligirl

sracenter.blogspot.com...

SRAC "River, Rocks, and Time"

by Deb Twigg, Executive Director of the Susquehanna River Archaeological Center of Native Indian Studies (SRAC) located at 345 Broad Street, Waverly, NY

Wednesday, July 16, 2008
The Horned Skeleton Story

While doing research for my article in Pa Archaeologist and making the website, www.SpanishHill.com, I have come across many references to the "Giant Horned Skeletons" that were supposedly found in the 1880's "in a mound near Sayre, PA." Most people that contact me through the internet concerning this story do so because they believe that Spanish Hill must certainly be the mound that was being referenced. However, I have no evidence to support that theory. In fact, I have decided to provide what information I do have for you, the reader to decide whether this story is factual or merely a mythical legend.

"Chemung's Predecessors Huge Giants

Were Seven Feet Tall and Had Horns" - Thursday July 12, 1916.

This is the headline from the earliest news article that I can find. It is from 1916, (as opposed to the 1880's.) This article goes on to say that this is "One of the Most Remarkable Scientific Discoveries in History Made Here - Sixty Eight Skeletons of Men Living 700 years ago Unearthed between Sayre and Waverly". "A Queer Fellow: He was seven feet in height. Horns protruded from his skull". "horns of solid bone which grew straight out from the skull about two inches above the perfectly formed skull and which gave every evidence of having been there since birth."

However a follow-up article is also available to this article with a quote from one of the men from the Moorehead expedition who have been identified as the team who found the skeletons. In the follow-up article, Alanson Skinner, asked, "Will you grant me the privilege of correcting the assertions of a news dispatch concerning a find made by our party and the alleged discovery of a mound near Sayre, Pa, in which the bones of men seven feet and more were unearthed? The dispatch further narrates the astounding fact that on some of the skulls, two inches above the perfectly formed forehead, were protuberances of bone, the inference being that these monsters were horned!" Unfortunately, I can only include short excerpts from it here, but you get the idea and can read these articles in their entirety at:www.spanishhill.com...

Later in 1921, the founder of the Tioga Point Museum and owner of the land where the burials were supposedly found, Louise Welles Murray followed this up with her explanation as to what had happened that day in her article, "Aboriginal Sites in and Near "Teago", now Athens, PA." In this article she stated, "While the writer was present one of the men in working a grave exclaimed, "There are horns over his head!" Mr. Skinner said that indicated chieftainship. Later this was found to be a bundle burial, completely covered with antlers of a Virginia deer. A passing visitor, however, heard the exclamation and attempted to verify it by interrogating a fun-loving Maine workman, and the story grew and was printed from coast to coast that one or more skulls had been found with horns growing from the forehead!"

Recently, I was given a small grocery store checkout style booklet that had the following on pages 16 & 17:

"It was the late 1880's. A group of scientists were conducting an expedition through the Bradford County area of Pennsylvania, in the northeastern part of the state near the New York state line.

The group, which included a Pennsylvania state historian and two professors, as well as a member of the Presbyterian church's hierarchy, had worked their way to a town called Sayre, where they became interested in a series of what appeared to be burial mounds.

Dr. P.G. Donehoo of the church and professor's A.B. Skinner and W.K. Moorehead of the American Investigation Museum and Phillips Academy in Andover, respectively led their group to the first of the mounds to begin careful excavation.

What they uncovered has puzzled science for nearly a hundred years.

Painstakingly scraping away dirt and rocks the expedition revealed several skeletons of males. The burial date of the skeletons was estimated at about A.D. 1200. So far, not unusual. But then they measured the remains and looked more closely at the structure. It was then discovered that the males had been over seven feet tall - - all of them - - a height unheard of in ancient times.

But strangest of all, close examinations of the skulls of the mystery men showed that they had horns...two actual horns apiece...that were an integral part of each skull.

Impossible, but they were there. Seven foot giants with horned skulls who died nearly 800 years ago.

The excited scientists carefully wrapped the remains for shipping and sent them to the American Investigation Museum in Philadelphia for closer examination. At the facility, scientists puzzled over the mysterious skeletons for months. Articles about them appeared in journals and magazines and then somehow they disappeared and were never seen again, taking with them the riddle that forever belongs to the unsolved." - Source: Great Unexplained Mysteries- Probing the Unknown - Globe Communications Corp, 1989

With that I have given you what I know or where to find it and will leave this up to you to decide for yourself what is truth or legend, and will just state that while I think it is a fun topic, it would be irresponsible to not include Skinner's and Murray's explanations in any report on this topic. So while you can find tons of references on the internet concerning our local "giants with horns" to this day, while you are surfing, don't forget to check out all that I have compiled at:

www.spanishhill.com...

Want to see actual local artifacts and learn more about the local Native Americans that lived here centuries ago? Visit SRAC at 345 Broad St. Waverly from 1-5pm Tuesdays - Fridays and 11-3pm on Saturdays!

 RussianCupid.com
Russian & Eastern European Dating

Browse Singles Now

JOIN FREE

reply posted on 25-6-2009 @ 01:56 AM by Gemwolf

This has been discussed several times on ATS. I would like to point out a single thread (or rather a single post) from our in-house expert Byrd:

Previous discussion: Important post

(This is the shortened version of the post: )

Originally posted by Byrd

...

The first displays evidence of manufacturing -- for one thing, the skull's sutures (cracks) are missing (they should be there) and features that must be present (holes below the eye sockets where the nerves run, etc) are "mysteriously missing" from the skull.

Then there's this quote:

During an archaeological dig in Sayre, Bradford County, Pennsylvania in the 1880s, a number of human skulls were unearthed. These skeletons were anatomically correct, except for the anomaly of their projections, two inches above the eyebrow, and the fact that their average height in life would have been around seven feet tall. The bones were sent to the American Investigating Museum in Philadelphia, where they were stolen - never to be seen again.

No such thing as "The American Investigating Museum". And "we found this and took a picture but it Mysteriously Vanished or was stolen" is a hallmark of a hoax tale.

...

Horned people (keratinism) is a known genetic anomaly.

...

Starchild skull was tested at one time and found to be 100% human, though the person who has charge of the skull didn't like the verdict (apparently). Hydrocephalus has been the suggested diagnosis.

...

edit on 25-6-2009 by [Gemwolf]

COPYRIGHT & USAGE

reply posted on 25-6-2009 @ 07:14 AM by Ophiuchus 13

I wonder if its a nephlim skull

COPYRIGHT & USAGE

reply posted on 25-6-2009 @ 07:29 AM by skeptical

"OFF TOPIC POST"

This entire post was removed because it was completely off topic and our staff had previously alerted members to stay on topic, or this is a very large thread where topical drift is strongly discouraged.

COPYRIGHT & USAGEreply posted on 25-6-2009 @ 07:35 AM by MOTT the HOOPLE

The Smithsonian is a past master at making history disappear there almost as good as NASA at hiding finds! 🌐 Just another in a long line of bogas institutions!

COPYRIGHT & USAGEreply posted on 25-6-2009 @ 07:52 AM by KEMIK

Here's an interesting site. They make replica fossil remains. Not saying this is the case, but...

Bone Clones*COPYRIGHT & USAGEreply posted on 25-6-2009 @ 09:27 AM by borachon

Depictions of moses had horns because of a mistranslation of, i think, "rays of light" to Italian.

My art history teacher would kill me if I didn't mention that.

COPYRIGHT & USAGEPages: << 1 2 >> ^^TOP^^

The Above Top Secret Web sites are a wholly owned social content community of The Above Network, LLC.

This content community relies on user-generated content from our member contributors. The opinions of our members are not those of site ownership who maintains strict editorial agnosticism and simply provides a collaborative venue for free expression.

ATS Server: www2.theabovetwork.com
Header data: 0.004 seconds
Page processed in: 0.204 seconds

INFO

About ATS
Info for Journalists
Site Statistics
Advertising
The Above Network
Contact Us

CONTENT

Board Home
ATS News
Firehose
Recent Posts
Popular Forums
10-Day Summary
Email Newsletter
RSS Feeds
Twitter
Facebook

VIDEO

ATS News
Top Videos
Videos Home
Pro Videos
Member Videos

HELP

DMCA info
Join ATS
Recover Password
Terms & Conditions
Privacy Policy
Contact Us

Attribution-NonCommercial-NoDerivs 2.5
The Above Network, LLC, 1997 - 2009

You are free:

- to copy, distribute, display, and perform the material

Under the following conditions:

Attribution. You must attribute authorship of the work to "dooper; a member of AboveTopSecret.com", and include the title of the message thread, Humanoid Skull with Horns found in 1880's; and this full link URL to the post: <http://www.abovetopsecret.com/forum/thread476058/pg1#pid6570761>. (Unless otherwise noted, photography and other artwork linked within member posts are subject to the usage rights of the individual owners of the linked artwork.)

Noncommercial. You may not use this work for commercial purposes. This includes display on any website that contains advertising, accepts member donations, or any other form of monetary compensation. Display must be open to the general web browsing public with no access restrictions.

No Derivative Works. You may not alter, transform, or build upon this work.

- For any reuse or distribution, you must make clear to others the license terms of this work.
- Any of these conditions can be waived if you get permission from The Above Network, LLC.

Your fair use and other rights are in no way affected by the above.

This is a human-readable summary of the Legal Code \(the full license\).

Disclaimer disclaimer

Okay, what does it mean?

In the most simple terms, we encourage people to share what they discover here on our websites, as long as they give us proper credit, and don't share entire posts on for-profit websites or other publications. You can include an entire post on another open-access public website, as long as you give the author credit, give AboveTopSecret.com credit, and link back to the URL of the discussion thread post. Linking back to the thread helps people discover the context of the discussion, especially if the content is current and evolving.

If you want to share our material on a for-profit website (one with advertising), you'll need to use a small snippet (not the entire post), and link back to the specific discussion thread post.

If you want to use entire posts or threads within a for-profit website, book, video, or other offline product, please contact The Above Network, LLC for more information on how to arrange proper rights. We assure you that we enthusiastically promote the efforts of our members and will work with you to negotiate usage rights that are in the best interest in the "common good" of collaboration and sharing.

Learn how to distribute your work using this license

Was There a Race of... People that Had Horns?

Could This Just Be Another Cover-up by Our Archeological Societies?

by Mary Sutherland

Spanish version

2004 from BurlintongNationalUFOCenter Website

Elohim, comes from Ellu, meaning "the Shining Ones."

"Shining Ones" is an ambivalent term used for both the Nephilim and their first born. The "Shining Ones" are often depicted with horns on their heads. This was a symbol of wisdom, but also of rulership. This is why shamans, priests, and kings adopted the convention of wearing horns also, especially in the form of the crown.

This was to primarily indicate that they were descendants of either the Atlanteans or the Lemurians and were endowed with power.

Michelangelo sculpted Moses with horns (see below images) on his head to indicate his blood-bond to the ante-diluvian kings.

Horns, in Moses' time, were a symbol of authority and power. Many gods, including YHVH have been depicted as having them. Kings and holy men were shown sometimes with exaggerated crowns.

Another point of interest: Moses came down from the mountain with horns at the beginning of the astrological age of the Ram stating, "I am the ram of God!" coincidence?

Human Skull on Display in French Museum

Philadelphia

Pursuit, 6:69-70, July 1973 Mysteries of the Unexplained, p. 39 1992

Human skulls with horns were discovered in a burial mound at Sayre, Bradford County, Pennsylvania, in the 1880's. Horny projections extended two inches above the eye-brows, and the skeletons were seven feet tall, but other than that were anatomically normal.

It was estimated that the bodies had been buried around A.D. 1200. The find was made by a reputable group of antiquarians, including the Pennsylvania state historian and dignitary of the Presbyterian Church (Dr. G.P. Donehoo) and two professors, A.B. Skinner, of the American Investigating Museum, and W.K. Morehead, of Phillips Academy, Andover, Massachusetts. The bones were sent to the American Investigating Museum in Philadelphia, where they were later claimed to have been stolen and have never been seen again

New York

Giant, horned human skeletons unearthed just south of Elmira and Wellsville, NY

Texas

A 30 + year old male skeleton was unearthed in a mining area of the El Paso area. Skull had two small horns protruding from the forehead area. Witness of this was Texas Ranger investigating another murder case .

click images to enlarge

Michaelangelo Buonarrotti's Moses at the tomb of Julius II. Circa 1513. Note the horns on Moses' head

At one time the horns were purported to be signs of kingship.

Alexander the Great was also depicted with horns on some of his coins (click below left). Here we find a possible gene throw back. Picture of 80 year old woman that had horn surgically removed. (image below right)

If it is a gene throwback to alien descent, the only alien I could find that carries the horn is the Varginha EBE. In 1996 a UFO was believed to have crashed in Varginha, Brazil (images below left).

There were many witnesses, including 3 young girls walking home from work. They seen the entities, describing them as between 4 to 5 feet in height, making strange buzzing sound, similar to the sound of bees.

They had 3 rounded protuberances on top of their heads, like that of horns. Oily brownish skin, big red eyes and a strong smell like that of ammonia. I think that is more aliens out there that do carry the horns and it could be that this particular EBE also inherited the gene from another alien race.

I will continue researching out the possibilities.

Ritual skull - South Africa
Hermitage Museum

'Horn' grows on man's head

Shimla, Dec 22, 2003 (IANS)
from NewKerala Website

A villager in Himachal Pradesh is attracting a lot of curiosity for the "horn" growing at the back of his head.

"The horn-like growth is about three and a half inches long and started growing at the back of my head some six months ago," says Lekh Ram, 65, of Nalagarh village, some 100 km from here.

A newspaper even carried a picture of the man with the grey coloured "horn" jutting out from his head. Medical records say it is a very rare phenomenon.

The news has started attracting curious villagers from neighbouring villages. Uncomfortable at the attention, Ram ties a turban to hide the growth.

"Initially it was soft but it is now beginning to get harder," Balkrishan Sharma, a local reporter, told IANS.

It isn't clear whether Ram has shown himself to a doctor, but he appears to be healthy otherwise. A bachelor and a celibate, Ram has served in temples all his life.

He claims to have had several mystical experiences.

Return to The Watchers-Nephilim
Return to Craneos Insolitos

-Several human skulls with horns protruding from them were discovered in a burial mound at Sayre, Bradford County, Pennsylvania, in the 1880's. With the exception of the bony projections located about two inches above the eyebrows, the men whom these skeletons belonged to were anatomically normal, though at seven feet tall they were giants. It was estimated that the bodies had been buried around A.D. 1200. The find was made by a reputable group of antiquarians, including the Pennsylvania state historian and dignitary of the Presbyterian Church (Dr. G.P. Donehoo) and two professors, A.B. Skinner, of the American Investigating Museum, and W.K. Morehead, of Phillips Academy, Andover, Massachusetts. The bones were sent to the American Investigating Museum in Philadelphia, where like so many finds that question anthropology, they were stolen and never seen again.-

From: <http://riggedreality.com/photo-human-skull-with-horns/>