Tracey Taylor - "Aliens Gave Me a Special Gift"

SHOW RIBBON

These images of two crusaders date from a 12th century manuscript " Annales Laurissenses" (volumes/books about historical and religion events)and refer to a UFO sighting in the year 776, during the siege on Sigiburg castle, France. The Saxons besieged and surrounded the French people. They both were fighting when suddenly a group of discs (flaming shields) appeared hovering over the top of the church. It appeared to the Saxons that the French were protected by these objects and the Saxons fled.

The above image comes from the 10th Century Tibetan translation of the Sanskrit text "Prajnaparamita Sutra", held at a Japanese museum. In the enlargement you can see two objects that look like hats, but why are they floating in mid air ? also one of them appears to have port holes on it. Indian Vedic texts are full of descriptions of Vimanas. The Ramayana describes Vimanas as a double decked, circular or cylindrical aircraft with portholes and a dome. It flew with "the speed of the wind" and gave forth a "melodious sound".

I always believed that the most unexplainable was the ufo sightings of the past. All of those (hardcore)debunkers who blame everything to be photoshopped and stuff cant claim it on those old manuscripts an alike. So with this thread i hope to get some more info on anything old that holds ufo tales or images .

Amazing pictures there :-)

I don't personally think the UFO phenomenon is a new one. Saying that I wonder what people back in the 700's would have thought about UFO's. I doubt they would have saw them as an advanced technology like we do today, but probably as something biblical or prophetic.

I've always been intrigued by the old works of art with UFO's in them. I am sure that some can be explained but some cannot. This website has some really nice one's, you gotta check it out:

What are the debuker arguments for some of the one's that have already been posted in this thread? I can already hear it, "of course that is not a UFO in that 16th Century painting, it is swamp gas and the other is flying seed pods". Hey listen, I know that there are loads of fake UFO pictures these days and I am truly a "prove it guy" but these old works of art may be the some of the best evidence. Too bad nobody is still around from those days. Thanks ATS!

thx for the input mate. The above picture from etshtrslr shows a fresco entitled "The Crucifixion" and was painted in 1350. Two objects with figures inside can be seen in the top left and top right of the fresco. Two enlargements of these objects are shown above. The fresco is located above the altar at the Visoki Decani Monestary in Kosovo, Yugoslavia ☺ . Lets get some more in !!

This painting is called "The Madonna with Saint Giovannino". It was painted in the 15th century by Domenico Ghirlandaio (1449-1494) and hangs as part of the Loeser collection in the Palazzo Vecchio. Above Mary's right shoulder is a disk shaped object. Below is a blow up of this section and a man and his dog can clearly be seen looking up at the object.

I think these types of paintings and documents show some of the most convincing evidence of extraterrestrial visitors. Back in those days, it would be impossible to imagine someone flying in a craft like that. They would have no reason to create a hoax, so it seems to me as some of the most undeniable and solid evidence to date.

Symbols in art mean different things to different cultures in different times. What looks like a UFO beaming a laser at the Virgin Mary to a 21st century audience was meant by the artist at the time to be circles of angels surrounding God and his light descending on Mary.

A lot of the above pictures are also poor internet copies of the originals, which makes UFO-looking objects appear. This is to say, many supposed UFOs in reproductions of paintings on-line actually look so because of poor digital reproduction. For instance, in the Virgin Mary particle beam picture, the "UFO" in the original is actually alternating rings of clouds and angles which have always represented God in sacred Catholic art. This is unseen because of the poor quality of the reproductions on the internet.

Please don't confuse ancient or medieval symbolism of sacred art with depictions of UFOs. Also please note that most paintings lose A LOT of detail when digitized and put up on the Web. Please check out this website for an explanation of how scholars interpret these "UFO evidence paintings". Most all of the paintings posted in this thread so far are discussed there.

Great post. I can't speak for every single ancient piece of art that might have UFOs in them, but in general I believe that people are just seeing what they want to see and that the "UFOs" were originally meant to represent something else by the artist...

Classical works of art (as a general rule, anything before 1900) are NOT copyrighted.

I do believe alot of those pics can be explained in an ordinary way. But since i have done alot of research in the field of ancient sightings i disagree with people who claim they are al bunk. To me it seems clear that things like this :

This is an illustration from a book "Ume No Chiri (Dust of Apricot)" published in 1803. A foreign ship and crew witnessed at Haratonohama (Haratono Seashore) in Hitachi no Kuni (Ibaragi Prefecture), Japan this strange object. According to the explanation in the drawing, the outershell was made of iron and glass, and strange letters shown in this drawing were seen inside the ship. And come on explpain to me what the thing could be exept a UFO ?

Looks kinda like Noah's Ark to me (it's shaped a little bit like a boat)...just some speculation.
