

In the 1960's Hasidic Reb Zalman Schachter-Shalomi, founder (in 1968) of the Havurat Shalom movement, and later "the Jewish Renewal Movement" ("ALEPH: the Alliance for Jewish Renewal" and the neo-Hasidic Jewish Renewal Movement) explored the teachings of Hazrat Inayat Khan and Murshid Samuel Lewis. In 1975 he asked (of Moinuddin Jablonski) to be initiated into Sufism as a student but Moinuddin sent him for initiation to Pir Vilayat Inayat Khan. Pir Vilayat initiated him instead as a Shaykh with the name Pir Sulayman. So Reb Zalman with Netanel Miles-Yepetz (Mu'in ud-Din) started the Inayati-Mamuni Sufi Taqiqat.

"In 2004, he co-founded The Desert Fellowship of the Message: The Inayati-Maimuni Tariqat of Sufi-Hasidim (The Desert Fellowship of the Message, Sufi-Hasidic, Inayati-Maimuniyya Order ) with his student, Netanel (Mu'in ad-Din) Miles-Yepetz, fusing the Sufi and Hasidic principles of spirituality espoused by Rabbi Avraham Maimuni in 13th century Egypt with the teachings of the Ba'al Shem Tov and Hazrat Inayat Khan."

<http://thesoundjournal.org/archives-2/july-aug-2010/the-harmony-of-the-zikr/>