

 NEWS FEED

search this site

LOG OUT MY ACCOUNT CONTACT US

- Home
- Subscriber Home
- News
- Out There
- Dreamland
- Revelations
- Store
- Whitley's Space
- Whitley's Journal
- Anne's Diary
- Insight
- Climate Watch
- Links
- Message Board
- Report Sighting or Encounter
- Newsletter
- Donate

Currently on Dreamland
The New Pope: What You
HAVEN'T Been Told

Currently on Revelations
Sweeping Changes in Consciousness

INSIGHT

behind the news

Like 70

Tweet 4

1

Abduction Wave in Indonesia

Friday, May 28, 2010

An Unknowncountry.com reader, Alan Lamers, working on the island of Sulawesi in Indonesia reports that many people are disappearing in the jungle, apparently due to a very unusual form of abduction that takes place if they wear certain colors. Some are returned, but generally with no memory of what happened to them.

His report follows:

I am on an island called Sulawesi in Indonesia. To be exact, I am writing this from the city of Makassar also known as Ujung Pandang Sulawesi Selatan (South Sulawesi).

I started running across this story about 3 years ago when I went to a small village in the district of Sandu Batu in South Sulawesi. I was told not to bring any clothing with yellow in it or any other bright colors to wear in the jungle. Only Black or White. Black was the most preferred. I had to ask why. They said that people who wear these bright colors will disappear.

I thought it was some kind of cultural taboo that had a harsh punishment if broken, so I complied of course. We got to the village and everyone wore black. The villagers verified that people do indeed disappear but this village would not say why. When we got there, rested, met with the leaders of the village, about 10 of us proceeded to go into the jungle to witness illegal logging that was occurring there and the villagers wanted to show us the damage.

One of my friends, who is a Bugis-Makassar, didn't listen or understand the warning and wore yellow socks. We did our tour and returned. He was strangely quiet. That night he became extremely ill. I had never seen a person projectile vomit that hard. He had an extreme fever also. We nursed him and about a day later he returned to his healthy self. Then he told us what happened.

He said something had bitten him on his right leg's calf and then his thigh. He showed us the marks. They were huge scratches. He said he could not see what was attacking him. He said he did not want to tell us what happened because he was embarrassed. The villagers stood around us with these knowing looks while we looked at the marks.

I asked them what it was. They did not want to say, but they said he was very lucky. Usually people disappear. I was stunned. It was not a taboo. It was a serious threat.

I just came back from the city of Palopo last night. I went there to visit a friend. Then I heard this story from her. Her cousin and four others went for a three day hike in the mountains about an hour out of town. When they did not return she began to worry. After about a week things got very serious.

She hired a search party with her own money, you have to understand she is poor so the cost to her was enormous. I know it was a few months ago because she would send me notes apologizing for not having the money to pay me her monthly loan payment. I found out it was because of the search party. Anyway I digress, she spent a month in the mountains searching for her cousin and his friends. They found only her brother.

He was severely emaciated but was still alive. He was also traumatized. He was also alone. The families of the missing men forced her and her family to continue searching for the four missing people. They have never been found. Not a trace. Not even a body. They just disappeared.

The brother has no memory as to what happened. He does not know how they got separated. He was so traumatized by what happened he did not speak for two months. I questioned him a bit but I stopped for now because he was returning to his previous state.

I asked my friend what she thought happened. She said it was the Jin. Jin is Arabic for demon. She said many many people have disappeared in the mountains because of the Jin. I asked my engineer friend who I worked with about this early today. He said it happens often and reminded me of Wala Wala the village we had gone to. Entire cultures have developed around this problem. They wear only black because they believe this allows them to travel through the jungle undetectable by whatever it is that takes these people. At first I thought perhaps it was a python. The largest snake ever caught was python. It was caught in Sulawesi. I was immediately corrected. Snakes are not a problem to grown adults they said. That theory died on the spot.

There is something taking these people Whitley. Something terrible and evil in Sulawesi. The people of Sulawesi have come to terms with it and have tried to adapt themselves to deal with whatever it is. It has gone on long enough to bend culture. I will continue to investigate what this is. It is one of the strangest and most dangerous true stories I have ever come across. Could it be extraterrestrials? Maybe but who? It would be easy for extraterrestrials to hunt human beings here because villages are so remote. I go by foot to many of them. There are few roads in some areas. Also 85% are Muslim and therefore people are not allowed to talk about this sort of thing and the religion treats this circumstance

Articles by Subject

2012 airport Arctic Brigitte Barclay Catholicism Chelyabinsk Meteor Christianity Climate Change Climate Watch DARPA davids Delta DoD Dreamland ECETI ECETI Ranch fate magazine Loren Cutts Lorin Cutts Meditation Melt MIBs Molecular Shift MUFON Multiple-Witness Nuclear War Pain Pakistan Pope Benedict Popes Prophecy of St. Malachy Revelations Symposium Salk Institute science fiction Sea Ice Sean Casteel Secrecy skeptics Strieber Synchronicity Syria terrorism Transformation UFO Matrix UFOs Underwear bomber Whitley Strieber William Henry Word Magic Words

more tags

Recent Insights

March 4, 2013
Powerful Multiple-Witness UFO Experience

February 28, 2013
The Revelations Symposium

February 19, 2013
The Chelyabinsk Meteor: Separating Fact from Fiction

February 14, 2013
Prophecy of St. Malachy

January 23, 2013
UFOs: Silencing the Insiders by Nick Redfern

all the articles

as nonsense because it does not fit into doctrine and is in constant competition with Animism. People are embarrassed to talk about it. This is a wild world Whitley.

Indonesia is one of the most volatile geographical areas in the world. The energy produced allows all sorts of entities to exist. Spirits are rampant here because of this. There word for Spirit is Hantu. I have experienced Hantu many times while here in Indonesia but that is another story.

Our correspondent provides this follow-up to his continuing investigation:

After a bit of a talk with some people who got the young man who had survived the hike in the jungle to talk, I interviewed and recorded the information as best as I could.

I found out he kept seeing what the Bugis call Jin Kurcaci. It means little demon people. These things do what is called "penculikan" or abduction. No one knows why they do this. But sometimes the people come back after a bit. The people or creatures who do this have a small nose and their eyes are small and black, but their mouths are very broad and when they smile it is very large compared to the rest of their face. He could not remember the color of their skin. I asked for a picture to be drawn. He managed a crude happy face with a nose consisting of a single line and a huge grimace. The boy was the only one who could see them out of the five. He kept seeing a lot of them but when he would try to show the others one of the four who disappeared could see them.

He also saw a strange animal he could not recognize. These animals are the size of a horse with huge antlers. He said he saw herds of them. He could not understand where they came from or why there were so many. They not an animal indigenous to the area. There is no such known animal that big in Sulawesi.

Apparently this is a widespread problem. The reason why I say I recorded the conversation as best as I could what I mean is that the batteries in the recorder which were just changed before I arrived went dead during the interview. This has happened before to me. So did the battery in my keyboard which is also new. I will be going home in a week but am stopping in Java first to see if this anomaly is occurring there. I keep getting told it happens a lot. I mean a lot. I did a search "Orang Hilang" or "disappearing person" and a lot of stories showed up. But the stories are in Bahasa. I plan on translating as many as I can because I have first hand experience.

Unknowncountry will continue to follow this story, and provide updates in this section of the website.

Remember, this is the only place in the world where material like this appears. Help us keep going by joining our subscriber community today.

To explore our subscription offering, click here.

NOTE: This Insight, previously published on our old site, will have any links removed.

Like 70 Tweet 4 1

This is weird but in a weird way understandable. I remember a Native American story of what happened to the buffalo. It was said that an old woman saw them go into a mountain. The last two to enter were a mother and a calf. This was at a time when Anglo-Americans thought that they had eradicated all the buffalo and freed up the land for cattle. Several years had passed and people had discovered buffalo on their property. The antagonistic attitude toward buffalo had passed and the people who discovered the buffalo allowed them to prosper. Maybe the happenings in Indonesia are what attracted the Nazis that went there. Peter Levenda's new book "Ratlines" details how some of the Nazi escape routes ended up in Indonesia. Maybe early Nazis investigated the weird stuff and thought it might lend them some more weird power.

Posted by Flyingwolf1 on 03 May 2012 at 12:15

reply

Post new comment

Your name:

DR MARK A FOSTER

Comment: ***

CONTACT US   ADVERTISE WITH US   COPYRIGHT   PRIVACY POLICY

website designed and brought to life by LIGHTWORKERDESIGN

Wednesday, March 20, 2013

An Abduction Wave in Indonesia—Demonic Jinns or Something Else?

Monday, June 7, 2010 0:38

Google+

LinkedIn

0

\(Before It's News\)

Image via Wikipedia

By Grant Lawrence

Bodhi Thunder

"....I asked my friend what she thought happened. She said it was the Jinn. Jinn is Arabic for demon. She said many many people have disappeared in the mountains because of the Jinn. I asked my engineer friend who I worked with about this early today. He said it happens often and reminded me of Wala Wala the village we had gone to. Entire cultures have developed around this problem. They wear only black because they believe this allows them to travel through the jungle undetectable by whatever it is that takes these people....."\(source: unknown country\)

Recently, I received this bit of fascinating information from my good friend, Ahbleza Kevin Ahbleza. He reports of an abduction wave in Indonesia. You can hear the details here at Whitley Strieber's Dreamland HERE

Ahbleza, Kevin, Ahbleza writes:

"Alan Lamers is a Native American, a Canadian Aboriginal, working in Indonesia for an NGO setting up public media outlets such as community radio stations to promote democratic values.

He keeps getting reports about how hikers and traveling villagers are being TAKEN, abducted, on the big island of Sulawesi ( Celebes ). Entire groups of people are being taken, while traveling through the jungle, most of them kept and disappeared, while one will be released and helped to make it back to civilization, apparently to recount the experience to others.

( This story contains many prosaic details about the Geography and the Cultures of the region which I happen to know are truly ACCURATE : general cultural attitudes, Makassar, the Boughis and their ships, the Torajit Funeraries, etc. The details are all AUTHENTIC ! )

The COLOR of ones clothing seems to be a determining factor in just WHO is taken away or merely accosted, such as in being invisibly grabbed or bitten.

There are two basic descriptions of Beings witnessed by the Abductees- one is a Being of large-grimaced FACE, the other is a large- antlered Caribou kind of animal type Being."

Unknown Country reports that the Villagers believe that the Abductions are occurring because of Jinn or Demons. The Jinn are a type of entity in Islam that is not human that live in other realms but that often interact with humans for good or evil. In the West, they are commonly referred to as Genies.

"...A Jinn is a supernatural creature which occupies a parallel world to that of mankind, and together with humans and angels makes up the three sentient creations of God \(Allah\). According to the Qur'an, there are two creations that have free will: humans and jinn. Religious sources don't mention much about them; however, the Qur'an mentions that jinn are made of smokeless flame, and they form communities just like humans, and, just like humans, they can be good or evil....\(source: wikipedia\)

See Also

Hank Wesselman PhD: A Conversation with a Jinn

Hank Wesselman, Ph.D: Another Encounter with a Jinn

But these Indonesian people believe that they are being attacked and abducted by little demon people.

"...I found out he kept seeing what the Bugis call Jin Kurcaci. It means little demon people. These things do what is called "pencilikan" or abduction. No one knows why they do this. But sometimes the people come back after a bit. The people or creatures who do this have a small nose and their eyes are small and black, but their mouths are very broad and when they smile it is very large compared to the rest of their face. He could not remember the color of their skin. I asked for a picture to be drawn. He managed a crude happy face with a nose consisting of a single line and a huge grimace. The boy was the only one who could see them out of the five. He kept seeing a lot of them but when he would try to show the others one of the four who disappeared could see them...."\(source\)

There is evidently something very strange occurring to these people.

I am not one of those to discount what a large number of people are saying. Still there could be a variety of explanations for this. It could be that the people are somehow having a type of shared group psychosis. It could be that the people are accidentally ingesting something (an ergot like substance) that is giving them these strange experiences. Or, perhaps they are being attacked by inter-dimensional beings.

Further investigation needs to be done on these very strange accounts.

Interestingly we have this report from All News Web of a reported UFO landing in Indonesia.

"...The footage below has stunned Asian UFO researchers and set regional UFO forums ablaze. These one-of-a-kind images were captured by stunned witnesses somewhere in Indonesia. What appears to be a landed UFO can be seen. Strange lights from the craft can be seen pulsating and an unusual humming sound can be heard.....All News Web Editor and Paranormal and Ufologist, Mr Michael Cohen comments that 'footage of UFOs that have impacted or landed on the ground is extremely rare, as is close-up footage of UFOs. This, if genuine, is a very important piece of film' ....(source: all news web)

<http://beforeitsnews.com/alternative/2010/06/an-abduction-wave-in-indonesia-demonic-jinns-or-something-else-73731.html>

Whitley Strieber –speaks – Abductions Indonesia

An Unknowncountry.com correspondent working on the island of Sulawesi in Indonesia reports that many people are disappearing in the jungle, apparently due to a very unusual form of abduction that takes place if they wear certain colors. Some are returned, but generally with no memory of what happened to them.

His report follows:

I am on an island called Sulawesi in Indonesia. To be exact, I am writing this from the city of Makassar also known as Ujung Pandang Sulawesi Selatan (South Sulawesi).

I started running across this story about 3 years ago when I went to a small village in the district of Sandu Batu in South Sulawesi. I was told not to bring any clothing with yellow in it or any other bright colors to wear in the jungle. Only Black or White. Black was the most preferred. I had to ask why. They said that people who wear these bright colors will disappear.

I thought it was some kind of cultural taboo that had a harsh punishment if broken, so I complied of course. We got to the village and everyone wore black. The villagers verified that people do indeed disappear but this village would not say why. When we got there, rested, met with the leaders of the village, about 10 of us proceeded to go into the jungle to witness illegal logging that was occurring there and the villagers wanted to show us the damage.

One of my friends, who is a Bugis-Makassar, didn't listen or understand the warning and wore yellow socks. We did our tour and returned. He was strangely quiet. That night he became extremely ill. I had never seen a person projectile vomit that hard. He had an extreme fever also. We nursed him and about a day later he returned to his healthy self. Then he told us what happened.

He said something had bitten him on his right leg's calf and then his thigh. He showed us the marks. They were huge scratches. He said he could not see what was attacking him. He said he did not want to tell us what happened because he was embarrassed. The villagers stood around us with these knowing looks while we looked at the marks.

I asked them what it was. They did not say, but they said he was very lucky. Usually people disappear. I was stunned. It was not a taboo. It was a serious threat.

I just came back from the city of Palopo last night. I went there to visit a friend. Then I heard this story from her. Her cousin and four others went for a three day hike in the mountains about an hour out of town. When they did not return she began to worry. After about a week things got very serious.

She hired a search party with her own money, you have to understand she is poor so the cost to her was enormous. I know it was a few months ago because she would send me notes apologizing for not having the money to pay me her monthly loan payment. I found out it was because of the search party. Anyway I digress, she spent a month in the mountains searching for her cousin and his friends. They found only her brother.

He was severely emaciated but was still alive. He was also traumatized. He was also alone. The families of the missing men forced her and her family to continue searching for the four missing people. They have never been found. Not a trace. Not even a body. They just disappeared.

The brother has no memory as to what happened. He does not know how they got separated. He was so traumatized by what happened he did not speak for two months. I questioned him a bit but I stopped for now because he was returning to his previous state.

I asked my friend what she thought happened. She said it was the Jin. Jin is Arabic for demon. She said many many people have disappeared in the mountains because of the Jin. I asked my engineer friend who I worked with about this early today. He said it happens often and reminded me of Wala Wala the village we had gone to. Entire cultures have developed around this problem. They wear only black because they believe this allows them to travel through the jungle undetectable by whatever it is that takes these people. At first I thought perhaps it was a python. The largest snake ever caught was python. It was caught in Sulawesi. I was immediately corrected. Snakes are not a problem to grown adults they said. That theory died on the spot.

There is something taking these people Whitley. Something terrible and evil in Sulawesi. The people of Sulawesi have come to terms with it and have tried to adapt themselves to deal with whatever it is. It has gone on long enough to bend culture. I will continue to investigate what this is. It is one of the strangest and most dangerous true stories I have ever come across. Could it be extraterrestrials? Maybe but who? It would be easy for extraterrestrials to hunt human beings here because villages are so remote. I go by foot to many of them. There are few roads in some areas. Also 85% are Muslim and therefore people are not allowed to talk about this sort of thing and the religion treats this circumstance as nonsense because it does not fit into doctrine and is in constant competition with Animism. People are embarrassed to talk about it. This is a wild world Whitley.

Indonesia is one of the most volatile geographical areas in the world. The energy produced allows all sorts of entities to exist. Spirits are rampant here because of this. Their word for Spirit is Hantu. I have experienced Hantu many times while here in Indonesia but that is another story.

Our correspondent provides this follow-up to his continuing investigation:

After a bit of a talk with some people who got the young man who had survived the hike in the jungle to talk, I interviewed and recorded the information as best as I could.

I found out he kept seeing what the Bugis call Jin Kurcaci. It means little demon people. These things do what is called "penculikan" or abduction. No one knows why they do this. But sometimes the people come back after a bit. The people or creatures who do this have a small nose and their eyes are small and black, but their mouths are very broad and when they smile it is very large compared to the rest of their face. He could not remember the color of their skin. I asked for a picture to be drawn. He managed a crude happy face with a nose consisting of a single line and a huge grimace. The boy was the only one who could see them out of the five. He kept seeing a lot of them but when he would try to show the others one of the four who disappeared could see them.

He also saw a strange animal he could not recognize. These animals are the size of a horse with huge antlers. He said he saw herds of them. He could not understand where they came from or why there were so many. They not an animal indigenous to the area. There is no such known animal that big in Sulawesi.

Apparently this is a widespread problem. The reason why I say I recorded the conversation as best as I could what I mean is that the batteries in the recorder which were just changed before I arrived went dead during the interview. This has happened before to me. So did the battery in my keyboard which is also new. I will be going home in a week but am stopping in Java first to see if this anomaly is occurring there. I keep getting told it happens a lot. I mean a lot. I did a search "Orang Hilang" or "disappearing person" and a lot of stories showed up. But the stories are in Bahasa. I plan on translating as many as I can because I have first hand experience.

<http://truthseekerforum.com/abductions/whitley-strieber-speaks-abductions-indonesia/>