The term Twin Flame is fairly new but the concept is ancient. It refers to the soul's separation of itself into male and female. Each part gains experiences until they are ready to reunite, merge and become One once again.

Mission

To encourage healing and personal spiritual growth. Essentially, to bring those who are ready to the next level.

Ma. Carolina Massone is a graduate from Stony Brook University of New York with a degree in Religious Studies specializing on archaic philosophy and symbology. She is an inducted minister and an honorary high priestess of the Universal Life Church Monastery. Although she has been practicing various forms of energy healing from a young age, she received her first official Reiki certificate in 1996. She was awarded the prestigious Reiki Grandmaster certificate in 2011 making her one of the few in the country with that mention. Since then she has expanded her studies to a variety of energy healing techniques that include Celtic, Egyptian, Hindi, kabbalistic and Gnostic systems among others. She has guided mass meditations of up to 300 people and is one of the founding members of The Master Shift group which has organized a few global meditation endeavors, the very first one of which included 22 countries. From then it has grown exponentially and the group continues to offer global unity moments for various causes. Carolina is a lecturer and an author, currently writing her first book on the fall of the sacred feminine and its implications on the social structure in Ireland. She also holds a sister site in which she offers local healing and training services www.twin-flame-healing.com

Lawrence G. Howard is a New York State licensed Acupuncturist since 1998. He graduated in 1998 and earned his masters in 2001 from Pacific College of Oriental Medicine. He worked as a subject matter expert for the NCCAOM for 4 years. He has numerous articles published such as "Diagnosis by touching the qi", and "My patient, my teacher and the four gates" among others. He has been developing a style of acupuncture he calls "energetic acupuncture" where various forms of energy healing augment traditional Chinese medicine diagnosis, treatment and theory. He received his first Reiki certification in 1994 and was awarded the Reiki Master certification in 2007. He has offered his expert advice to The Master Shift group, an emerging meditation organization which goal is to organize what they termed "cause meditations". He is currently an instructor at New York College of Health Professions.
