

זיכרוננו לברכה 1 pronunciations

<http://www.forvo.com/search/%D7%9C%D7%91%D7%A8%D7%9B%D7%94/>

Zaliel A Tuesday angel residing in the 5th Heaven and invoked from the south.

<http://www.angelfire.com/journal/cathbodua/Angels/Zangels.html>

Z"l

The dedication stone of the Seattle Kollel makes use of the abbreviation z"l.

Z"l or z"l (Hebrew letters: ז"ל) is an abbreviation for Hebrew zichrono livracha (זיכרונו לברכה) or zichrona livracha (זיכרונה לברכה), which may be translated “may his/her memory be blessed” or “of blessed memory”, as in the Latin “beatae memoriae”. It is common in Judaism, when mentioning in writing the name of someone who has died, to add z"l after the person’s name. When speaking about someone who has died, it is common to add the full phrase, zichro livracha or zichra livracha, or, more colloquially, “zal”. In both written and spoken contexts, a common English equivalent (translation/paraphrase) inserted after the person’s name is the phrase, “of blessed memory”.

Another expression, used in similar fashion, is A"l or a"l, alav hashalom (עליו השלום) or aleha hashalom (עליה השלום), Hebrew for “peace be upon him/her” and roughly equivalent to “May he/she rest in peace”.

1 See also

- Honorifics for the dead in Judaism

2 References

<http://hebrew-academy.org.il/2011/11/-זיכרונו-לברכה-זכרו-לברכה/>

https://en.wiktionary.org/wiki/of_blessed_memory/

3 Text and image sources, contributors, and licenses

3.1 Text

- Z¹ Source: <http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Z%22?oldid=600267164> Contributors: Bearcat, Jmabel, Reinyday, Malcolma, Eliyak, Magioladitis, Epson291, Addbot, IfYouDofYouDon't, GuySh, BG19bot, Ravjon, Mpathfinder and Anonymous: 4

3.2 Images

- File:Seattle_Kollel_dedication_stone.jpg Source: http://upload.wikimedia.org/wikipedia/commons/9/90/Seattle_Kollel_dedication_stone.jpg License: CC-BY-SA-3.0 Contributors: Photo by Joe Mabel Original artist: Joe Mabel

3.3 Content license

- Creative Commons Attribution-Share Alike 3.0